Memo:

TO MEMBERS OF THE
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

FROM: Rod J. Scott, Alumni Director

Following are some questions we have been asked in the Alumni Office concerning Program 25 and the answers to these questions:

Why as an alumnus am I asked to contribute to the University twice?

In the past you have been asked to contribute to the five-year development program on a pledge basis. Funds were solicited from you as well for the Alumni Annual Fund—which went to scholarships.

At long last the Alumni Association and the University Development Office are together for Program 25.

The Alumni Association's portion of the $6,150,000 Program 25 project is $300,000 over the next five years.

We are asking you, as an alumnus, to contribute to the Alumni division of Program 25.

You will not be asked to contribute twice.

Why a Stadium?

For more than a year the directors of the Alumni Association have been investigating various projects. The most common complaint of alumni who have been asked to contribute funds in the past is that they do not want their funds to be thrown into a general pot; but, to be ear-marked for a specific project. Stadia have not been, are not and will not be financed in any way by Government funds. The stadium, therefore, is a facility which the University will not have unless the funds for it come from an outside source. As alumni we can satisfy this need.

What about the Scholarship Fund?

The need for scholarship funds at the University is acute. Over the past several years the Alumni Association has contributed approximately $6,000 per year to this fund.

We have committed ourselves to the University for $7,500 per year for the next five years to the scholarship fund. There may be alumni who do not agree with the stadium as a project. Their contributions, therefore, will go to the scholarship fund. If you want your donation to go to the Scholarship Fund, please indicate this to the Alumni Office and it will be so assigned.

This is the first time in the history of the Alumni Association that we have embarked upon such an ambitious program. We will not solicit funds from you for the next five years. Please be generous. You will receive a pledge card in the mail.

The Alumni Association is divided into sixteen chapters and each chapter has its own campaign organization. A dollar per year from your pledge will be transferred to the chapter treasury.

CHITTARO'S LANCERS NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

by Dick Moriarty

Each year at the Annual Athletic Banquet an "A" Award goes to the alumnus who has "contributed most to the planning, organization, prestige, and calibre of athletics at the University of Windsor". This year Alumni Director Rod Scott turned the award over to head Lancer Basketball Coach Eddi Chittaro, whose team during the past season compiled a perfect record of fourteen wins and no losses on their way to the O.Q.A.A. League Championship and the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union National Championship.

Perusal of the record of Windsor and Lancer teams since joining the O.Q.A.A. in 1952 shows that championships and even national championships are not uncommon for Windsor teams and Windsor coaches. The unique feature of Eddi Chittaro's contribution was that as an interim coach he had only one year to maintain and build on the Windsor tradition. Mr. Chittaro is head of the History Department at Herman Collegiate and could not accept the responsibilities of head Lancer coach for any long-term period. He did agree, however, to help his alma mater out for this one year when former head coach Bob Samaras signed on as baseball coach and doctoral candidate at Wayne State University. It was a one-shot effort. Coach Chittaro knew it, the Lancer team members knew it, the fans knew it, and therefore the pressure was really on to insert Eddi Chittaro's name in the Lancer head coach list with the league and national championship behind it.

The departure of Coach Samaras from the Canadian basketball scene was greeted with joy by head coaches in the O.Q.A.A. The consensus of opinion around the league was that Samara's departure, combined with the loss of all-star centre Bob Navetta and big men Joe Bardwisch and Tom Elliot, would relegate Windsor to the second division for the first time in current history. It was acknowledged that Coach Chittaro was a competent coach and he did have some pretty good players on his freshman team of last year and they were pretty good shooters; however, lacking height and experience it was doubted whether they could be moulded into a serious threat in one year. The Lancer Varsity line-up did not frighten the opposition, the mystique of Windsor supremacy was gone and for the first time in current years, the Lancers went into the season as the underdogs.

The scores and statistics of the season tell some of the story of the season. They do not tell the story of the nightly practices, the strategy sessions, the scouting, the realignment of personnel after the loss of several key players, the leadership both on and off the court of team captains, Sante Salvador, Andy Auch and Chris Wydrzynski, the outstanding play of seniors Gerry Bunce and Ed Lanktree, the development of freshman Lancers Jack Orange, Tino Lenti, Bill Tonelli and Jack Bolzan, the transition from the Crusaders to the Lancers of Mike Crowe, Tony Grant and the play of veteran Guy Delaire. The statistics and scores do not tell the story of the come-from-behind victories or the strategy behind them. Some of the fans who followed the Lancers throughout the season have some insight into what went into this year's championship team but only Coach Chittaro and his assistant Nick Grabowski fully understand what was involved in the entry of O.Q.A.A. champions and C.I.A.U. national champions in the 1968-68 section of the Lancer basketball record book.

Editor's Note: The Alumni Association extends sincere congratulations to Coach Chittaro, not only on the success of his basketball victory; but, also, as an alumnus who has made an outstanding contribution in many ways to the Association.

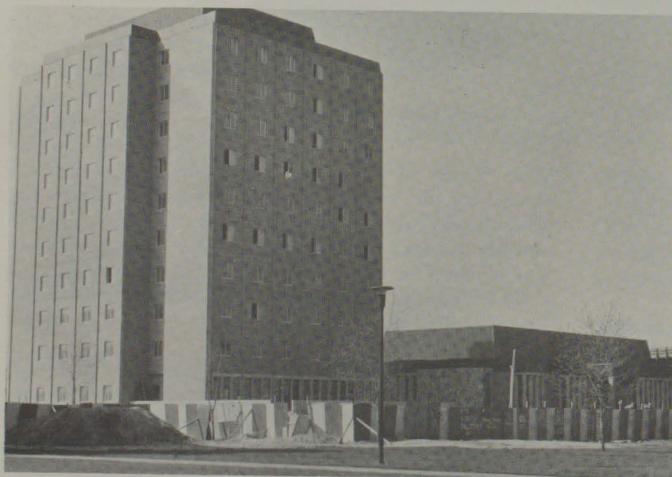

Coach Chittaro with the McGee Trophy (National Championship) and the Wilson Trophy, O.Q.A.A. Championship.

CHANGING FACE OF THE CAMPUS

Construction of the $2,900,000 Law School building is well under way. The 85,140-square-foot building is to include a large library, moot court and a relatively large number of seminar rooms as well as large lecture rooms.

Nearly completed is Vanier Hall, a new student centre and dining facility. Designed to feed up to 1,500 students in two main floor dining rooms, Vanier Hall's basement level is to be a recreational facility with an art gallery, meeting rooms, residence government rooms, card and ping pong rooms, a billiard room and a coffee shop.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Hall, similar in structure and in an adjoining location to Sir John A. Macdonald Hall, is to house 356 female residents in the coming academic year. The three buildings shown on this page are all projects made possible by the University's Program 25 for Today.

Meet the Board

Editor's Note: This is intended to be a continuing feature in the Alumni Times. Each issue we will introduce to you members of the Board and chapter executives.

CHAPTER CHAIRMEN VISIT CAMPUS FOR STADIUM FUND WORKSHOP

One of the basic needs of an individual is to feel that he or she is a worthwhile member of a worthwhile group. A moment's reflection will reveal how fundamental and universally applicable this statement is. The Alumni Association of the University of Windsor is embarking upon an endeavor which will benefit the University and, in turn, will enhance the Alumni Association. The decision, by your Alumni Board of Directors, to commit the Association to a fund raising campaign which will ultimately provide the University with a much needed Athletic Stadium was anything but easy. The Board spent many soul-searching hours weighing the implications of such a decision. Is the project worthwhile? Can we raise the funds required? How will such a decision be received by the University? What support may we expect from the University? Can the mechanics of such a project be handled? What about our commitment to scholarships? All of these questions, and many others, were investigated before a decision to commit ourselves to the raising of $300,000 to help to build the Alumni Stadium was reached.

So, we have a worthwhile project, far greater than anything we have ever undertaken. This in itself, however, does not make our "group" worthwhile. It is the participation and involvement of the individual member which will do so. This in turn stimulates the individual pride which comes with the knowledge that, "I am a worthwhile, participating member of a worthwhile group."

For an organization of some eight thousand members our past efforts have been minimal, it must be agreed. We have simply committed ourselves to $7500 per year in scholarships. This is less than one dollar per year, per member! We are so confident that all-out support will be gained for our first "BRICKS & MORTAR" project that we have agreed to maintain our scholarship fund in addition to the Stadium Fund. Any member may, if he wishes, designate all, or any part of, his or her contribution to scholarships.

The co-operation, encouragement and support of the University has been another source of satisfaction and confidence. Doctor Leddy got our campaign under way by opening our discussions with the various Chapter Fund Chairmen who are listed below. Mr. Rod Scott, Alumni Director and his staff have placed the resources of his department at our disposal for the handling of the mechanics of this monumental undertaking.

When making your pledge remember that you are fulfilling a need; the University and her teams, your teams, need a stadium; the individual need to feel a part of a worthwhile group will be satisfied. Your Alumni Association is a worthwhile group.

General Chairman,
Alumni Stadium Fund.

TKA Fraternity House

FRATS FLOURISH ON CAMPUS

By V. Bassman and B. O'Dwyer

Editor's Note: We asked Messrs. Bassman and O'Dwyer, members of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, to outline why fraternities are needed; and, what they do on the campus of the University of Windsor.

The University of Windsor students and administration have recently opened the doors for fraternal societies on campus. Currently Lambda Chi Alpha, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Chi and Phi Kappa Theta have made their presence felt on campus with an endless list of constructive activities.

The general spirit and drive of a fraternity is maintained by selecting a group of individuals who share common goals, interests and a desire to participate in decisions relating to their personal and social environment. Each fraternity, however, has a distinct character determined by those objectives and standards that have been built through time and tradition.

To a certain extent, fraternities may be considered somewhat like a service organization such as the Lions' Club or Kiwanis Club, in that they are constantly contributing to the welfare of the student and the city community. Examples of this may be seen in their involvement in blood drives (250 pints this year), supporting orphanages and charities. Contributions are made to general school spirit by active participation at football games and other campus sports. They also provide a vast range of unique social activities to which all members of the student body are invited.

More specifically, fraternities provide a conducive environment for learning and participation which a young man entering university may find exceptionally helpful. This is accomplished by living and working with others who face common problems in campus life. Fraternity brothers participate in social and business activities to give them an opportunity to develop a practical knowledge not available in the classroom. Fraternal groups stimulate the efforts of individual members in accomplishing those objectives that that person considers important.

Four of Windsor's Fraternities now provide, by national regulation, housing which is comparable to or better than the average university housing. Interestingly enough fraternities are the first groups on this campus to make use of the co-operative housing plan available under C.M.H.C.

It is also interesting to note that alumni of universities in the United States who are fraternity brothers on the average contribute up to 80% of the donations to universities per year.

Fraternities in general appear to be filling an obvious void on our campus and successfully so. It seems they will contribute and achieve on the University of Windsor campus for many years to come.

Does It Again!

Message from the President

Fellow Alumni:

I should like to take this opportunity to extend sincere thanks to Chuck Collini and his committees for the tremendous task of organizing and executing Homecoming Weekend successfully. We had the largest attendance yet for Homecoming, as all of you who were present can testify. It was a fun-filled week-end with all our chapters well represented. If you were inconvenienced Friday evening we apologize as we anticipated about 1500 not 3500, however, we were there for fun and renewing acquaintances weren't we. The Ecumenical Service held Sunday was most inspiring and we hope to repeat this next Homecoming but at a time when our out-of-town alumni can attend.

On April 12, a most important meeting was held at the Physical Education Building. A meeting dealing with our Alumni Fund Drive and Program 25. General Fund Chairman Bill Totten and Chapter representatives were present, as well as University officials, your Board of Directors, Mr. Scott and myself. Do you realize that the last time we officially asked for funds for the Alumni was in 1966-'67? It's been a long time. I am hoping that you give this a lot of thought and are very generous when you are approached. You will be hearing about the proposed Football Stadium. This is not just a fancy of one or two people. This required much thought, and careful consideration at your Board meetings and with the University's President and Board of Governors. How proud we will be to drive down Huron Line and see "Alumni Stadium"! If you happen to be an alumnus who could care less about football or stadiums, that's your prerogative but let's not use that as a crutch or excuse for not giving. The educational aspects of our objectives are not and will not be neglected. We are going to continue giving our Annual Scholarships and Alumni Student Activity Awards. However, to do this, we still have to realize a minimum of $7,000.00 annually.

We must all work together for the advancement of our beloved University and Alumni Association. The challenge is there. I know you will respond generously and in loyalty to the University and in your belief in maintaining high educational standards.

Vacation Special . . . Reduced Travel Rates Offered Through Your Alumni Association . . .

The Alumni Office has made arrangements with the American International Travel Service to offer members of the Association travel packages at greatly reduced rates. There is no obligation nor number required for the rates as we are joining in this venture with other Alumni Associations.

You will be hearing from the Alumni Office about these packages periodically throughout the year. These are not packages which require that you stay with a group and be led through various towns although these are available to you if you desire them. Simply stated, it is a way you as a member of the Alumni Association can receive good rates for travel.

The first offering is called "Hawaiian Carnival" and is a 13 day package. Three days and nights in Las Vegas, seven days and nights in Honolulu and three days and nights in San Francisco on your way home.

Included in the package is your:

- 1) Round trip to the Coast, Hawaii and return by DC8 including delicious meals on board.
- 2) All breakfasts at your hotel in San Francisco and Hawaii.
- 3) Breakfasts, lunches and dinners plus all cocktails at your hotel in Las Vegas. Your hotel in Vegas is the Flamingo.
- 4) All dinners throughout the entire trip at your hotel or at any of the famous restaurants in San Francisco and Hawaii on a list provided for you.

- 5) Accommodation at the Flamingo in Vegas, the San Francisco Hilton or Del Webb's Towne House in San Francisco. The Ilikai, Hilton Hawaii-ian Village or Waikiki Biltmore in Honolulu.

6) Transportation to and from airport and hotels.

7) Luggage — 2 pieces up to 44 pounds, will be transferred directly to and from your hotel rooms and flights.

8) Sight-Seeing tour of Honolulu.

There is never any regimentation. You are free to do as you please in each city, enjoying your trip at your own pace. The total cost for this package is $599.00 U.S. funds. You will be receiving further information in the mail. Please feel free to contact the Alumni Office.

We will be notifying you of future similar trips. The Hawaiian Carnival is slated for four different times this summer. We're working on a European trip as well and hope this service will be of benefit to you, our alumni.

Governor General Receives Honorary Degree

Leading figures of church, state and the academic world were to be honored at the University of Windsor's Spring Convocation on May 31.

The recipients of honorary degrees are:

The Rt. Hon. Roland Michener, Governor General of Canada, who will speak briefly to Convocation. The Governor General will unveil a bronze plaque to be placed later in the new Law building. It is his first visit to Windsor.

Dr. Robert B. McClure, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, who will deliver the Convocation address.

The Hon. William J. Davis, Minister of University Affairs for the Province of Ontario.

Professor Howard Mumford Jones, Abbot Lawrence Professor of Humanities, Emeritus, Harvard University.

Dr. E. T. Williams, Warden of Rhodes House, Oxford University.

In addition to the granting of an honorary Doctor of Civil Law degree to His Excellency and Doctor of Laws degrees to the other honorary graduands, the Convocation will see the granting of degrees to approximately 850 students of the University of Windsor.

The Right Hon. Roland Michener:

Many honors have marked the career of His Excellency, the Governor General of Canada. Born at Lacombe, Alberta, he saw service in the First World War in the Royal Air Force. In 1942 he was commissioned Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Artillery (Reserve).

A graduate of the University of Alberta (Bachelor of Arts, 1920) and Oxford University (Bachelor of Arts, 1922; Bachelor of Civil Law, 1923; and Master of Arts, 1929), Mr. Michener was Rhodes Scholar for Alberta in 1919.

Admitted as a Barrister, Middle Temple, in England in 1923 and to the Bar in Ontario in 1924, Mr. Michener practised law in Ontario from the latter year to 1957. He was appointed King's Counsel in 1943.

His political career has included service in the Ontario Legislature and the Commons. In Ontario he was member for St. David from 1945 to 1948, and during the last two years of that service Provincial Secretary and Registrar for Ontario. Elected to the House of Commons in 1953, he was returned in 1957 and 1958 and was elected Speaker of the House of Commons in both those years.

He was sworn of the Privy Council in 1962 and was a member of the Council, Commonwealth Parliamentary Association in 1959-61.

He served as General Secretary for Canada for the Rhodes Scholarships (1936 to 1964) and was chairman (1962-1964) of the Manitoba Royal Commission on Local Government and Finance.

From 1964, Mr. Michener was High Commissioner to India, a position he held until his appointment in 1967 as Governor General. The same year saw his appointment as Chancellor and Principal Companion of the Order of Canada and Prior for Canada and Knight of Justice of the Most Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem.

Robert Baird McClure, M.D., F.R.C.S., F.I.C.S., D.D.

Dr. McClure is the son of the late Dr. William McClure, pioneer missionary of the Canadian Presbyterian (later the United Church of Canada) Mission in North Honan, China, and in later years Professor of Internal Medicine at Cheeloo University.

In 1968 Dr. McClure was elected Moderator of The United Church of Canada. As he had frequently been a pioneer in his medical work, he was now a pioneer in another field. He was the first layman ever to hold this office. In addition to his medical degrees he has since been honoured twice with the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

The Honourable William G. Davis:

The Hon. William G. Davis, at 39, is one of the youngest Ministers in the history of Canada to have held two such important portfolios as Education and University Affairs.

Under Mr. Davis' direction, a network of 20 colleges of applied arts and technology, a new form of post-secondary institution, has been established across the province.

In 1967, Mr. Davis was elected chairman of the newly formed Council of Ministers of Education, a body which,

I think the Homecoming was a tremendous success. The success of the weekend can be attributed to the excellent assistance of the committees; and, particularly to the enthusiasm of the students.

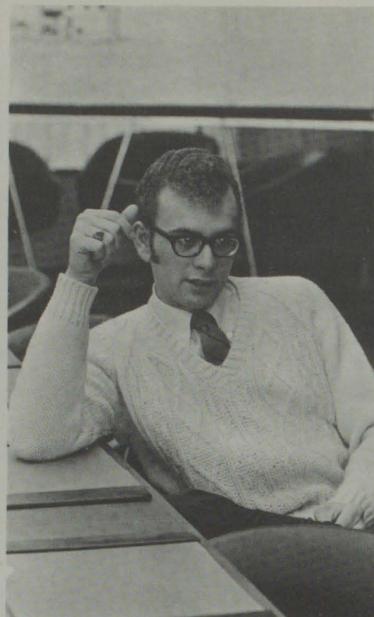

Homecoming 1968 was a great success! There was one important ingredient that made the weekend jell . . . Total cooperation on the part of students and alumni working together. Let's do it again.

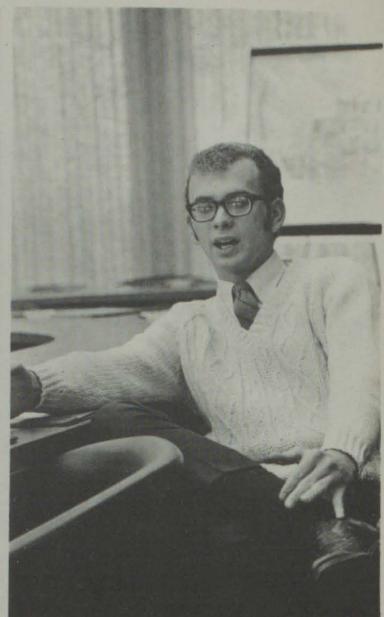

"We tried to bring students and alumni together."

"We ran into trouble Friday night, expecting 1,200 and getting over 3,000 people."

"The alumni-student planning cooperation was terrific."

Homecoming '68

...Format A Success?

Participation Unprecedented

Interview with Rick Wozenilek

Q.—This year, great emphasis was placed on student-alumni joint participation in homecoming weekend. How did this work out?

A.—One person told me that he felt the alumni eyes were opened when they saw how students tried to make the weekend a mutual success. I saw plenty of mingling between the two groups at the Monte Carlo, the Parade and the Football Game.

Q.—Was it necessary to segregate seating at the football game?

A.—We had to hold a block of seats for the alumni so they could be sure of being able to sit down at the football game. With our limited bleacher capacity and it being the big game of the year we felt we had to look after our guests. I noticed at the game itself there was a lot of interaction between alumni and students.

Q.—Were you pleased with the turnouts on the week end?

A.—By and large we were very pleased. We think there must have been approximately 2,000 people at the Monte Carlo. Our concert was a virtual sell-out; the best we have ever had at a homecoming concert.

Q.—How did you, as a student, find the alumni during the week end?

A.—We found the alumni very helpful and interested in being involved with students during the weekend. For some students it was the first time the alumni became a reality. . . . By that I mean that up until the weekend they had heard about the alumni as a sort of a vague body. On the weekend they were able to discover them as real people.

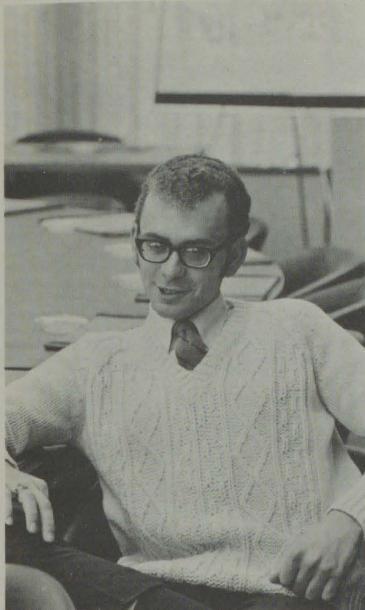

Q.—What are your hopes for next year's homecoming?

A.—Naturally we hope that it will be even bigger and better, that we can build on success. I am collecting reports from the chairmen of all my committees so that the next student homecoming chairman will have these to go on when he begins his planning.

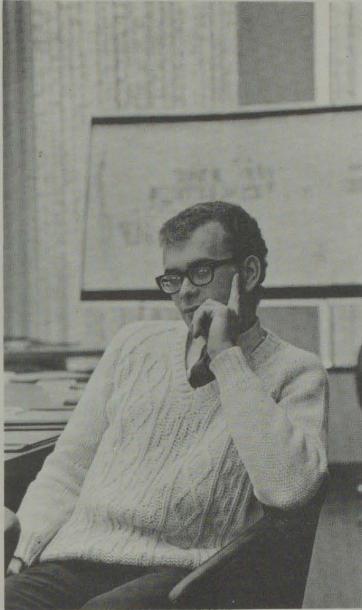

Q.—When should that be?

A.—I am recommending that he start early, say in March. He is appointed by the University Activities Committee of the Students' Council. This is the group which looks after all student social and cultural events.

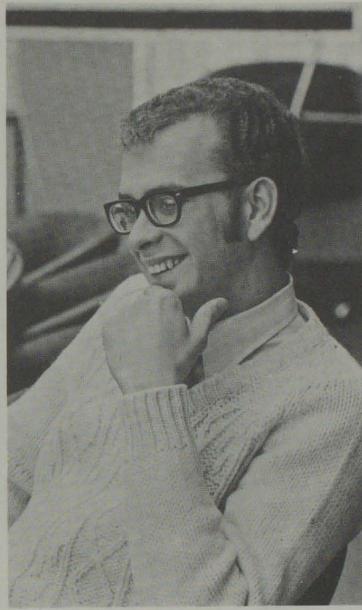

Q.—From what you say Homecoming Weekend was a great success from the student viewpoint. Were there any problems?

"I'm hooked now; I will be back for Homecoming '69."

"Sure we had problems; but we learned a lot from them."

"An enjoyable experience; I'd like to do it again."

A.—Nothing major. Every year there is a problem of last minute rush on getting trucks and floats together for the parade, but probably that's part of it. The semi-formal dance on Thursday could have been better attended—there were only about 175 there—and we're thinking of the possibility of extending the student part of homecoming to four days, and to step up promotion of this function. Its main aim is to properly crown the Homecoming Queen. It should happen at the start of the weekend so she can reign throughout. We had one small problem of success—so many people came out to Monte Carlo that we ran out of simulated money. One place where the prophets of gloom and doom thought we would have trouble, we didn't. For the first time students of legal age had access to bars set up on campus. There was no trouble. I understand that the Security

Chief, Mr. McIver was very pleased with the whole weekend, that his people had virtually no trouble.

Q.—Have you any other suggestions for next year?

A.—It might be a good idea to hold the parade on Friday evening, if scheduling could be worked out. Follow it with a bonfire and football pep rally to lead into Monte Carlo.

Q.—Were there any other innovations this year?

A.—For the first time we used a preliminary selection committee of six to reduce to five the number of candidates for homecoming queen. It was interesting to me that the vote on the final six—the largest vote ever recorded for a homecoming queen election here—followed the same pattern as the selection committee's choices. This confirmed to us that using a preliminary selection committee was a good idea.

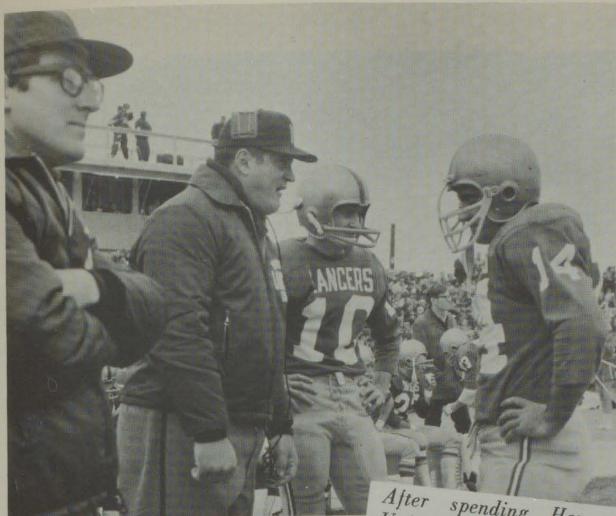

Homecoming '69

Homecoming 1969 set for October 24, 25, 26. General Chairman Tom Henderson and Student Chairman Ian McLeod are already busy planning the various events. This much has been settled to date. The opposition for the Lancer football game on Saturday afternoon will be the University of Ottawa. The headliners for the Friday concert will be "Anthony and the Imperials". A pep rally, complete with large bonfire will take place at 12:30 a.m., late Friday or early Saturday, depending upon your state of mind.

Homecoming Parade, Saturday at 10 a.m. Homecoming Ball, Saturday evening (with a real new twist this year). Watch for the announcement.

After spending Homecoming weekend at the University, I feel very sincerely that highest congratulations are in order to the organizing committee for the tremendous success of Homecoming '68.

Pat McManus

Honoured

P. L. "Pat" McManus retires June 30 after forty-one years of service to the Windsor Board of Education. Pat was honoured by the Evening School Staff of the Board of Education recently (pictured at the right), with 200 guests in attendance.

Pat has served the Alumni Association of our University in many ways during the past years; and, we take particular pleasure in wishing this loyal and enthusiastic alumnus best wishes for a long and happy retirement.

BOARD CHAIRMAN RETIRES

The rapid passage of amendments to the University of Windsor Act has brought about the retirement from the Board of Governors of one of its senior members, the chairman, John J. Stuart, several months sooner than expected.

Mr. Stuart

The Alumni of this University would like to express their gratitude to Mr. Stuart for his leadership during one of the most important growth periods in the history of the University.

His direct efforts on our behalf and his co-operation and understanding in helping to overcome many of our problems are appreciated by the membership.

One of the provisions of the revised act is that no member of the Board is eligible to serve more than three successive terms. Mr. Stuart's third and final term expires in October, 1969.

Another provision of the revised act alters the composition of the board to include four members of the teaching staff and reduces, by two, the number of members generally elected by the Board.

Although currently there had been one vacancy on the Board, it was necessary under these new amendments for another member of the present Board to retire, and in view of the fact that Mr. Stuart was not eligible for reappointment in October he requested the Board to accept his resignation at this time.

With his resignation, and the election of the four teaching staff, Mr. Stuart observes, the Board will be properly constituted under the terms of the revised act.

He plans to retain an active interest and connection with the University of Windsor as a member of the Management Committee of the University's Program 25 for Today.

Commenting on the resignation, Dr. J. F. Leddy, President of the University declared: "Mr. Stuart has made a tremendous contribution to the University. We keenly regret the turn of circumstances that has shortened his term even by a few months."

The Board of Governors formally expressed its feelings in a unanimously passed resolution of appreciation.

Mr. Stuart had served with the present Board since its inception in October, 1962. The initial terms of members were staggered, by lot, for durations of one, two and three years so that the terms of all members would not expire at the same time. His first term happened to be one of those of a year's duration. He had since been re-elected twice for the regular three-year period.

The amendments to the University of Windsor Act were given second reading on March 26, approved without debate when the House was in committee on March 31 and given third reading and Royal Assent the following day, thus becoming law. In the past three years, all other university bills have attracted extensive debate in the committee stage.

The main changes so approved were: the increasing of the size of the Board from 30 to 32 members, including four members of the teaching staff elected by and from members of the Senate; the limiting to three successive terms of office of members of the Boards; the revision of Senate membership to include 30 members of teaching staff to be chosen by the Senate and four students and reducing the number of ex-officio members to include only the President, the Vice-President, the Deans and Vice-Deans of each Faculty, the Academic heads of Colleges affiliated or federated with the University, the Executive Director of Student Affairs, the Director of Extension, the Librarian and the Registrar.

Four students had been sitting for a year as Senators under the provisions of a general Senate bylaw, but their seats are now formally established in the revised act.

The effect of these changes is to give the Senate a clear majority of elected teaching staff.

Splash Party

On September 22 a Splash Party was held in the new pool at the School of Physical and Health Education building on College Street, south of the main campus.

This event proved to be so enjoyable that we are planning another for Sunday, June 15, 1969, from 1 p.m. till 4 p.m. The Sauna Baths and pool will be available to alumni and their families; and, we urge you to join your fellow alumni for a swim. Fully trained life guards will be in attendance for your protection and safety.

We request that you comply with the following regulations: 1) children must be accompanied by an adult, 2) supply your own towels.

Lockers are available for both men and women; and, hair drying facilities are available for the gals as well.

Make plans to be with us June 15; and, bring the whole family. Enter the building from the ground level entrance on the west side of the building (beside the football field).

Our thanks to Dr. P. J. Galasso and Prof. Dick Moriarty and the staff at the Phys. Ed. Building for their co-operation.

We'll see you in the pool on June 15.

New History Head Appointed

Dr. M. Vukovic

Dr. Milorad N. Vukovic, Associate Professor of History, succeeds Rev. Dr. Daniel J. Mulvihill, C.S.B., as Head of the History Department at the University of Windsor.

Father Mulvihill is continuing as professor in his department, but has relinquished the headship in order to revert to full time teaching and research. Father Mulvihill served as Head for ten years.

Dr. Vukovic, who has been acting head for the past year, has been a member of the Faculty of the University of Windsor in the Department of History since 1960. He received his academic training at the University of Belgrade, Assumption College and Assumption University and at McGill University. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy.

School of Dramatic Art Established

The Department of Drama and Speech has formally changed to the status of a School of Dramatic Art, the first such School to be formed within the framework of a University in Canada.

The aim of the School is to provide both a thorough training on Dramatic Art and a sound academic education. Its major program leads to the degree Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dramatic Art. Admission to this program requires evidence of aptitude through audition. Of the 80 students auditioning last summer only 22 students could be accepted. At present some 250 other students at the University are taking various drama courses.

Students of dramatic art receive broad professional training. In the course of this training, the student comes into contact with the principal entertainment media—the stage, television, radio and film. The student's first year is devoted to voice training. His first actual contact with an audience is in the medium of concert readings and radio performances. In subsequent years, he works on the stage and in the television and experimental film studios.

A Theatre Centre has been formed, one of whose functions is to provide professional summer theatre. It will be in this theatre that the best of the Bachelor of Fine Arts students will receive their first professional experience.

Dept. of Communication Arts Established

The Faculty of Arts and Science will introduce a course in Communication Arts beginning September 1969. The newly formed Department of Communication Arts will offer a course labelled "Survey of Mass Media" which will be numbered Communication Arts 10.

The introductory course is designed to develop an understanding of how the media of mass communications both serve and reflect society. The program examines media functions, history, and potential. Included for study are the following: newspapers, magazines, comics, films, radio, television, recordings. The course will be oriented towards laboratory practise and experimentation in a radio and television environment, and approximately one-third of the course will be laboratory research. (3 hours a week).

Dr. Walter Romanow was named head of the department and assumes the responsibility of teaching, organization of course, arrangement of class and laboratory schedules, the assessment of staff requirements and consideration of future media-communication course offerings.

Future development of the department will be aimed at offering a B.A. degree in a three year general program which would allow students to fulfill a minor and/or a major study requirement.

Suggested courses which could be offered are: Programming Processes In Radio And Television; Methods Of Mass Communications Analysis; Materials And Background Of Mass Media Criticism; Modes Of Film Communication; Communication And Written Messages; and, Educational Utilization Of Mass Communications Media.

In planning course developments existing courses of other departments will probably be utilized. Psychology and/or Sociology courses which are concerned with detailed exploration of individual or collective behaviour, and, Drama and Speech courses which study interpersonal communication.

The aim of the new department is to develop a scholarly and creative approach to mass media in students who wish to continue further studies in Communication Arts; to develop an awareness and understanding of the functions of media in students who intend to enter the teaching profession; to initiate a studied interest and awareness of the responsibilities of media in a social context in students who intend to enter the media professions.

Dr. Hoffman Theology Head

Dr. John C. Hoffman, Associate Professor of Theology was appointed Head of the Theology Department at U of W on January 24. The appointment becomes effective September 1, 1969.

Dr. Hoffman of Toronto, took his early education there, graduating in Honours Physics and Chemistry from the University of Toronto in 1954. He then obtained a Doctor of Philosophy degree (Ph.D.) in Organic Chemistry at McGill University.

From January, 1964, to 1968, Dr. Hoffman has been Assistant Professor of Theology at this University. Then he became Associate Professor in 1968. From 1964, he has been Principal of Iona College.

Dr. Hoffman serves as president of the Canadian Theological Society.

Dr. Hoffman is married to the former Nettie Wilson, herself an ordained minister in the United Church.

B.A.Sc. In Geological Engineering

Responding to the demand for geological engineers both in Ontario and in the rest of Canada, the University of Windsor has approved a new program leading to a Bachelor of Applied Science (B.A.Sc.) in Geological Engineering to commence in 1969/70 in the Faculty of Applied Science. This program will complement existing programs, such as the four-year Honours B.Sc. in Geology, the three-year B.Sc. (General) and the Geology Minor.

Geological engineers are in great demand in exploration for ores, industrial minerals, petroleum and natural gas, in the production and exploitation of such deposits, in groundwater studies and in the growing field of environmental geology. Because of their short supply, geological engineers have commanded a premium above remuneration paid in all other fields requiring an equivalent amount of preparation.

The curriculum is designed to give the student a broad grasp of fundamentals allowing for on-the-job specialization or further training in graduate school without sacrificing maximum mobility in future years of employment or adaptability to the challenges or procuring new natural resources for a changing society.

Administration of the program rests with the Department of Geology, the curriculum being in the hands of a special committee comprising representatives of Geology, Civil Engineering and Engineering Materials.

Accreditation of this program by the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario will be sought for purposes of registration of the graduates.

Industrial Research Institute Appointment

Wm. Pulleyblank

William L. Pulleyblank, a 1961 B.A.Sc. graduate, has been appointed Assistant to the Manager of the Industrial Research Institute of the University of Windsor.

Mr. Pulleyblank comes to the Institute from Union Carbide Canada, Limited, where he was Financial Analyst (Special Assignments) in the Control Manager's Department, Chemicals and Resins Division.

He received his Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Windsor in 1967. He has also completed evening courses in Industrial Psychology and Government Finance at McMaster University and Computer Programming at the University of Toronto. He is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

In addition to his service at Union Carbide, Mr. Pulleyblank has worked at Canadian Vegetable Oils Limited, Hamilton, as a plant engineer and supervisor of the specialty department, as an assistant supervisor, quality control with Canada Packers Limited, Toronto, and as quality control supervisor, Beech Nut Life Savers Inc., N.Y., Hamilton, Ontario.

The Industrial Research Institute is a non-profit Ontario corporation. It offers the facilities of the University of Windsor for aid in research and development and, from time to time, offers seminars of wide technical interest to industry.

In his new post, Mr. Pulleyblank's principal duty will be to conduct liaison on research development and other services with firms in southwestern Ontario.

Computer Science Department Established

The University of Windsor has established an Interfaculty Department of Computer Science to coordinate and expand its program in this key study area.

The two degrees to be offered are Bachelor of Science in Mathematics (Computer Science Option) and Bachelor of Applied Science in Electrical Engineering (Computer Science Option). As the department develops it is expected that an additional degree will be established.

Because of the importance of Computer Science in many areas, the department has been approved as one in which a number of faculties participate.

The Interfaculty Council of the department presently consists of: the Head of the Department, those directly involved in teaching Computer Science, and one representative from each of the Faculty of Applied Science, the Faculty of Business Administration, the Division of Science, the Division of Social Science, the Department of Mathematics and the Department of Electrical Engineering.

Six to seven courses are available to students taking the Computer Science Option in Electrical Engineering or Mathematics through the four years (Electrical Engineering and Honours Mathematics) of their courses. A fewer number would be taken by students in the three-year general Mathematics Courses. Fourth year students would be required to undertake a major project in the area of Computer Science. Full details of courses will be published in the 1969-70 University calendar.

The facilities of the University's Computer Centre will, of course, be used by the Interfaculty Department in its teaching program. This Centre, which serves the computing needs of the whole University, has a considerable range of equipment with an IBM 360/40 computer and an IBM 1620 computer as the central items.

THEOLOGY CONTRACT CASE

The following statement was issued by Geoffrey A. MacGibbon, Director of Public Relations and information services, at the time of the occupation of the Theology Department by a small group of dissident students. At subsequent meetings it was certified as a correct and fair summary by the president of the Faculty Association.

Regular procedures established as a matter of academic right in most of the universities of North America have been used by the University of Windsor in the non-renewal of the teaching contract of a faculty member of the Department of Theology.

At the University of Windsor these procedures are stated in an agreement between the Faculty Association and the University designed to protect the academic freedom of the teaching faculty.

In the first instance, the decision to renew or not to renew a contract originates within the Department itself after consultations between the Head of the Department and his colleagues. It should be emphasized that no prior action in this respect is taken by other administrative officers or the Board of Governors.

Most initial appointments to the University of Windsor faculty are probationary. When the term involved, usually a year, is completed, the contract may be renewed for a new term, or the faculty member may be appointed to permanent staff or the contract may not be renewed. It is understood there is no commitment as to which course will be followed.

In this case, the usual procedure has been followed. After the Head of the Department of Theology had discussed the matter with other members of the Department he advised the faculty member in question verbally early in December that his contract would not be renewed and he confirmed non-renewal by letter on Jan. 17. (The agreement between the Faculty Association and the University requires that this be done not later than Feb. 1).

Several channels of appeal from a decision not to renew are open to a faculty member. He may approach the Dean, or the President, or the Faculty Association. In this case, no approach has been made to the Dean or President and no application to the Association.

During January, various student representations were made to the Head of the Department of Theology. Following these representations, members of the Department with the exception of the Head and the member concerned met to review the case. The decision not to renew was upheld at this meeting. As can be seen, student opinion, as expressed by the petitioners, was taken into consideration in reaching the decision. The Head of the Department then wrote, on Feb. 3, to the President of the Students' Council advising him of the results of the review.

It should be emphasized that by agreement with the Faculty Association, no public statement can be made about the background to decisions not to renew contracts in individual cases.

Students in Occupation

This particular statement is being issued to clarify the general procedures involved, to make clear that they were applied with scrupulous fairness in this case and to correct a number of misrepresentations which are being circulated.

Since the above news release was issued Dr. Kelly has appealed to the Faculty Association and the case is presently under review.

THE NOVELS OF MARIE-CLAIRE BLAIS

Elizabeth K. Watson, University
Library Reference Dept.

Elizabeth Watson

It is only within quite recent years that the writers of English Canada and those of French Canada have been aware of, and influenced by, each other to any meaningful extent. The same separation existed in their audience. French Canadian books were known in Quebec and in France, and went virtually unnoticed in the rest of Canada and the English-speaking world. The lessening of this cultural isolation is due partly to the changing realities of Canadian life and partly to the very real literary abilities of young Canadian writers. One of the foremost young French Canadian novelists is Marie-Claire Blais, born in the city of Quebec in 1939 and educated there in a French convent and at Laval University. In 1963 she was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship, which allowed her to spend a year in France. Since then she has been living in an isolated part of Cape Cod.

At the age of eighteen Mlle. Blais wrote her first novel, La Belle Bête, which was published in 1959. In 1967 her seventh novel, David Sterne, appeared; she has also published two volumes of poetry. Since she came to the attention of English-speaking critics her works have been compared to those of Kafka, Henry James and Virginia Woolf. Mlle. Blais cites Claudel, Mauriac and Cocteau as important influences on her development and acknowledges no early influences of literature written in English, although she now reads it fluently. The fact that comparisons are commonly made between the works of such writers and those of a young woman barely thirty years of age is an indication of the literary stature already presumed to be her due; the failure of any one writer to provide a satisfactory comparison illustrates the original nature of her accomplishments.

The vision of life presented in the novels of Marie-Claire Blais involves a deep melancholy, or "sadness about living," and the belief that man is born innately evil and burdened with a deep sense of guilt. These are attitudes common to the French Canadian culture, derived from many years of cultural, religious and intellectual isolation and poverty coupled with fierce anger and pride. They are not unique to Marie-Claire Blais, but her refinement of them into passionate, poetic literature sets her work apart from the polemics of some young French Canadian writers. Her novels are constructed like prose poems; the most effective passages are those involving her characters in dreams or reveries when her writing is least rooted in realism or narrative and is most free to be lyrical and poetic.

Nearly all the characters in these novels seem mutilated, physically by ugliness, decaying diseases, or injury, and mentally by hatred, idiocy, or isolation from each other's needs. Most are preoccupied with the thought of death or of impending doom. Une Saison dans la Vie d'Emmanuel (A Day in the Life of Emmanuel) is perhaps her most poetically intense and sensitive novel to date. It presents one season, winter, in the life of a rural family which merely exists, accepting apparently unchangeable conditions of hopelessness, insensitivity and lack of real satisfaction or meaning in life. Her most recent novel, David Sterne, deals with very current themes, the alienation of young people and the loss of the old absolutes without any adequate replacement. The central character questions all the basic structures of society, and finds them so wanting that he chooses evil as a way of life, a decision which must ultimately lead to his death.

The artistic sensibility of Marie-Claire Blais is expressed through novels of passionate and poetic renderings of mood rather than the narration of plot or the probing for psychological insights into character. Her work is receiving increasing recognition in both Canada and the United States, and her literary stature seems well established since A Day in the Life of Emmanuel was awarded the 1966 Prix Médicis.

Toronto Chapter Plans Alumni Directory

The Toronto Chapter intends to produce a directory of all Alumni in the Chapter. Listed in the directory will be the name, address, telephone number, business address, business telephone, position held and firm name.

Many times alumni can be of help to each other, not only socially; but, in a business sense. Please answer and return the questionnaire as soon as you get it, so you may be included.

The Toronto Chapter geographical area covers Metro Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough, Owen Sound, Barrie, Orillia, Bracebridge, Midland, Penetanguishene, Lindsay, Port Hope and Cobourg.

The Mailbag...

October 15, 1968.

Dear Sirs:

I always enjoy receiving the Times and especially to hear of the gigantic strides made at the University. It seems as though buildings will never end.

Since obtaining my B.A. in 1961, I continued with the Redemptorist Fathers at Holy Redeemer and received my B.S.Th. in 1964, then spent another year at the sem. Then on to Toronto for the College of Education and now I am completing three years teaching at Saint Mary's (History and Math).

While here I have also been in charge of the phys. ed. program and fortunately we have done very well, especially in basketball. This year we entered a high school league for the first time and walked off with the championship (won 8, lost 0) of the St. Lawrence 'B' League and later advanced to the Eastern Ontario finals.

The secret of success: Dick Moriarty sent me last year a copy of Bob Samaras' book on 'blitz basketball'.

I will now be on the parish staff of our Redemptorist parish in Charlottetown. Hope the Alumni Times can reach the Island.

Sincerely,
Bill Fitzgerald, C.Ss.R.

Dear Rod,

The "Homecoming" plans look excellent. Perhaps, someday I will be in a position, geographically, to attend one of them. Be sure to give my regards to anyone whom I know.

I hear many good things about your work at Windsor. This pleases me very much. I hope you are happy, and that you are able to cope with the politics one encounters in any university set-up. My own work goes well. I'm teaching three courses in Philosophy, running a library, supervising a residence for 75 young men along with all the other things expected of a priest. Last Spring, the students evaluated the majority of the courses taught in this University. This Fall, they put out a "Handbook" containing their conclusions and recommendations. One page listed an "Honour Roll" of the most outstanding teachers in the University of Alberta. Would you believe that, out of some 1,200 professors, yours truly made the "Honour Roll", along with 38 others!

Everyone admits that the "Course Guide Handbook" (as it is called) contains many weaknesses, and that the students made a mistake in listing an "Honour Roll". However, it is nice to get some recognition, especially when one is sure that it is sincere.

Love and blessings,
Father James Daley, C.S.B.

The Director of the School, Dr. P. J. Galasso announced recently that a first regional conference of the Ontario association (an affiliate of the Ontario Education Association) will be held at the School of Physical & Health Education, on May 2 and 3.

The aim of the project is two-fold; to promote local involvement and wider participation in the Association, and, through this more effectively meet the specific need of area physical and health educators. From the Windsor regional experience, the Association will determine whether to continue regional conferences as an alternative or addition to the central Toronto session. The other aim of the Windsor conference will be to strengthen communication between the various levels of education — elementary, secondary, community college and university. Many interesting new approaches are being tried in the schools of the region without knowledge of them becoming widespread.

Registration for the conference is at 6:30 p.m. Friday, May 2, and the first general session begins at 7:30. The following day, the program runs from 9 a.m. through 4 p.m.

Success in this pilot regional conference will almost certainly establish a new and broader communication between teachers of physical and health education in the area. It will also almost certainly lead to similar conferences elsewhere in Ontario.

ALUMNI IN THE NEWS

Michael Axford, who is executive assistant to Mines Minister Allan Lawrence at Queen's Park describes his job and his future participation in provincial politics as "an exciting challenge."

From his days participating in mock parliaments at university to his present post, he has not lost sight of the fact that those in politics have to keep close contact with the people they represent. He notes this close affiliation with citizens in the riding and knowing problems is one of the most interesting and gratifying tasks he has in his current position.

Mike said to make the citizens of Windsor and area aware that the government and the PC party is concerned about them, a series of visits and meetings are being scheduled for the district. He indicated that he plans to pay special attention to the organization work in this area.

While admitting he eventually wants to seek a seat in the legislature and in all likelihood in Windsor, Mr. Axford said he plans to make politics his future in "one capacity or another".

Mr. Marcotte

Oswald Ernest Marcotte, founder of Marcotte Funeral Homes Ltd., suffered a fatal heart attack Wednesday, Jan. 1.

Mr. Marcotte, 69, was stricken while visiting friends in Tecumseh. He died en route to hospital.

Mr. Marcotte was a funeral director for more than 40 years. Two funeral homes—at 870 Wyandotte St. E. and in Tecumseh—bear his name.

Married to Clare Blonde, Mr. Marcotte was the father of four sons, who all joined the business: Jerome P. of Tecumseh; Paul F., David L., and Philip J., all of Windsor.

Also surviving is his daughter, Mrs. George (Patricia) Sinclair of Russel Woods.

Mr. Marcotte was an executive member of the parish council of Immaculate Conception Church. He was Past Faithful Navigator of the Dean Wagner Assembly of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, a member of Windsor council 1453 of Knights of Columbus, and a member of the Alhambra.

He was a director of the Funeral Society of Ontario, past vice-president of the Ontario Funeral Service Association and a member of the Windsor Chamber of Commerce.

Ralph Stephani, head of the circulation department at University Library, University of Windsor, on March 30. Mr. Stefani is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Stefani and a brother, Alex of Windsor.

Charles W. Stemmler, on November 14, in Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Stemmler was very much a part of campus life while a student here. His participation in dramatic activities will long be remembered by his classmates of Assumption.

Rev. Thomas J. McGouey, C.S.B., 64, was born in Saint John, N.B. He graduated from Assumption University in 1928 and was ordained a priest in the congregation of St. Basil, in 1931. He was also a graduate of Boston College. He lived in Windsor for the past 22 years, teaching psychology at the University of Windsor. Survivors include sisters, Miss Florence H. McGuire and Mrs. Charles H. (Laura) McGuire and Mrs. Owen G. (Kathleen) Hughes, all of Saint John, N.B.

Rev. F. J. Boland, C.S.B.

Father Boland came to Assumption University in 1955 and began his university teaching career. He was given the rank of professor in 1967. His list of contributions to the scholarly field indicate his eminence among Canadian historians, but over and above this his interest in Canadian-American affairs carried him to the fore in his field.

He was founder of the Canadian American Relations Seminar at Windsor in 1959, and continued as director until the end of 1967. This was a remarkable achievement, in advance of his time. Father Boland attracted help from all areas of political, social and economic life; actually he helped to increase, in no small way, the reputation of the University. He acted as editor of the various publications of the Seminar throughout the years. He was tireless in his efforts, in spite of poor health created a small "empire" in this field. His efforts were marked by his ability to co-operate with people and it was amazing to see the number of "big names" he brought to Windsor.

His contributions were not only on the level of organization but he always remained what he fundamentally was, an excellent teacher on the undergraduate and graduate faculty. His close contact with the students proved over the years to be a stimulant to both faculty and students. In his contribution to University life he was the true integral humanist; he was priest, scholar and teacher.

Father Boland was interested in people, and willing to help all who appealed to him. He was devoted to his work and particularly for the small people of the world. Marked in his life by the virtues of his sensitivity he was humble and obedient to the demand of his calling; today these are not easy, yet he strove to do them well. We are proud to have had him as a confrere and intellectual associate.

Memo:

TO MEMBERS OF THE
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
FROM: Rod J. Scott, Alumni Director

I have often written in the past in this space and elsewhere in the Times about new challenges and changes facing alumni as a result of the growth of the University. Our office continues to try to meet these challenges, and the success with which we do it really depends on the loyalty and effort of you, the alumni.

I have been fortunate in the past few years to have had that support and advice in generous measure, particularly from those who have served on our Executive. And of those, no one has given more of herself than our president, who retires at the coming annual meeting.

In this time of change and challenge, Audrey Thibert has devoted intense interest and long hours to the benefit of the Association — all of us — and I know that in the history of the University of Windsor Alumni her selfless contribution will always be remembered. As Director I would like to convey my own and your thanks to Audrey for a job well done.

I would also like to mention important contributions to the Association's well-being that the constitutional process again is bringing to an end at the annual meeting. Joe Deane and James Holden have served us faithfully and well as our representatives on the University Board of Governors. Their contribution has been important not only to us but to the Board, for they have provided both an alumni voice and wise counsel.

The accomplishments of the future can only be built on the foundations of the past. As we move into the exciting '70's, we do it with a confidence we owe to those who have discharged their responsibilities so well.

Students' Council Sponsors Ballet

Student Council has announced that it is bringing the Royal Winnipeg Ballet to Windsor's Cleary Auditorium for a one night performance Thursday, October 16. The world renowned troupe will perform three ballets — the famous Canadian composed "Aimez-vous Bach?", "Fall River Legend" (the wild story of Lizzie Borden), and "Variations on Strike Up the Band".

The Royal Winnipeg was Canada's first ballet company and was the first "Royal" Company in the British Commonwealth. They have recently returned from successful tours in Russia, and the United States. Their repertoire ranges from the classical to the contemporary and their Windsor performance will display this wide range of ability.

Council members point out that the event would not only round out their social programme, but would also display their interest in the community as well. Student Council was also successful in obtaining a 20% discount on all tickets sold in advance to University of Windsor students.

The tickets are presently on sale in the University Centre, and information can be obtained by calling (519) 254-7784.

Homecoming 1969

Friday evening is the time to renew acquaintances in the atmosphere of your choice. Since alumni will be arriving from early evening till early morning special arrangements have been made with the liquor licence board to give you ample time for "auld lang syning". Two adjoining but separate areas will be available to you in the "Old Administration Wing" courtesy of the Basilian Fathers. One area for quiet conversation another for the raucous more lively activity. Both areas have bands. Monte Carlo games in University Centre.

To make sure you don't miss anything, the Fraternities will again wake you up at the hotel and serve you a "juice" eye opener followed by a five-course breakfast. They will not call you as early this year; but, will be on tap at 10 a.m. This breakfast will also be available to local alumni and will be served at 10:30 at the Holiday Inn Trianon Room. If you are not staying in the Hotel but plan to be at the breakfast, please make reservations through the Alumni Office no later than October 20.

Immediately following the Football Game there will be a Wine and Cheese Reception. Special efforts are made at this event to have many faculty members present so that you may renew your acquaintance with them. Close to the main reception will be the Faculty receptions, where the Engineering Society, Physical Education Society and Commerce Club have special receptions for their former members. This event has been a highlight of the weekend in the past; and, you should not miss it.

Saturday evening is the Homecoming Ball. Space is limited. Places will be available for all registrants; but, those not registered will have to be on a first-come first-serve basis. At 9:30 sharp, the drawing will take place and you must be in the auditorium at the time of the draw to win. The main prize this year is a Deluxe Holiday in New York City for two; and includes Air Fare return from Windsor — 4 nights at the Americana Hotel in New York City — orchestra seats at a Broadway show — and dinner and show at the Copacabana OR two return airline tickets to Mexico City and Acapulco.

At this writing our football team is undefeated in Conference play and will be facing the powerful University of Ottawa squad for the Homecoming game. You will have a reserved seat if you have registered for Homecoming but due to the very limited seating at the game, we can only hold the seat for you until 1:30 P.M. The game starts at 2 P.M. The only way we can give you this reserved seat is through registration. Please do not ask for special arrangements as they cannot be made.

Your committee has lined up an enjoyable weekend for you — some of which we have outlined above. Make this year your year to attend. See you October 24, 25 and 26.

TORONTO ALUMNI HOST FROSH RECEPTION

About 50 persons met at St. Michael's University in Toronto early this month for the first alumni reception for Toronto area students who enrolled in their freshmen year at the University of Windsor.

Paul Kennedy, president of the Toronto alumni chapter, other members of the alumni chapter, and several faculty representatives from Windsor, described for freshmen, parents and friends advances made by the university in the past few years.

Dr. Frank DeMarco, vice-president, answered many questions from students on curriculum, university environment and other social, language and cultural aspects of the Windsor-Detroit area. Of course, there were comments on student unrest, revolt—and how these affected the university.

Others from Windsor included Rod Scott, alumni director; Mr. George McMahon, dean of students, and Miss Evelyn MacLean, dean of women.

Mr. Kennedy said that the alumni reception would become an annual event. About 200 of the 1,200 freshmen expected to enroll at the university are from the Toronto area.

The Toronto Chapter of the Alumni Association achieved excellent results from its initial project in "search" for alumni living in the Toronto area.

The search took the form of a business - reply - type - card, mailed to alumni known to be living in the Toronto area. The mailing encouraged alumni to use the reply card and submit names and addresses of friends who had attended the University of Windsor and are now living in Toronto and surrounding areas.

As a result, over 150 alumni were "found" in the first three weeks, and many more are expected before the project is completed.

The Toronto Chapter will follow-up this success with additional effort in the near future, including a second mailing and the establishment of a membership committee of about five individuals.

This search for alumni is the first step in a program intended to increase and improve communication with and between alumni in the Toronto area.

SERIES ENTERS 36th SEASON

The 36th season of this Series, which Bishop Fulton J. Sheen opened thirty-two times since 1934, is still directed by Rev. J. Stanley Murphy, C.S.B., D.ès L., the Founder; it is still presented in both Windsor and Detroit. Many alumni will again be attending many of the interesting and enjoyable offerings of 1969-1970 season.

In the Ambassador Auditorium, University of Windsor, the first speaker, on the evening of Sunday, October 5, 8:00 E.S.T. (9:00 E.D.T.) will be distinguished author and sociologist Andrew M. Greeley, who optimistically speaks on: "A Future To Hope In". On Nov. 2, 8:20, E.S.T., in the same auditorium, "China and U.S.A. Security in Asia Today" will be discussed by scholar-diplomat Allen S. Whiting. Later in the season, Tom Buck, a colleague of Arthur C. Clarke (inventor of the Communications Satellite and of 2001 fame) will discuss "Destiny of Our Children in the Space Age". In March, E. H. Cookridge, former British Secret Service Agent, a scholar, journalist, author, will throw light on "The Anatomy of Espionage Today."

Ferenc Nagy, former Prime Minister of Hungary, will talk on "The Fight of the East-Central European Intellectuals for Freedom." This will be on Sunday, 3:15 p.m., Nov. 23, at the Detroit Veterans Memorial Building, 151 E. Jefferson. In the same place on Jan. 25, 3:15 p.m., Arthur G. Gibson, dynamic speaker and scholar, will discuss his latest book: "The Faith of the Atheist."

At Ford Auditorium, Detroit, Clann Gael: 20 spirited singers, dancers and musicians from Ireland and the Scottish Highlands will appear on Oct. 19. In the same auditorium on March 8, the perennial favourites, the Vienna Choir Boys will sing.

At convenient Cleary Auditorium, Windsor, will be three concerts by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with Sixten Ehrling, Alexander Gibson and Valter Poole. The much-acclaimed Varel and Bally Chanteurs De Paris, and the London, England Gabrieli Brass Ensemble will each give concerts in Cleary.

These are some of the fifteen events scheduled for the fall and winter of 1969-1970 in the Series. An illustrated brochure with a list of presentations and complete information can be obtained by telephoning 965-0838 or 254-1722; also by writing to: Christian Culture Series, 400 Huron Line or to the Alumni Office, U. of Windsor. Season Passes for the Series: $10. There are also non-member's admissions obtainable for the individual concerts.

Commerce Club Sponsors Seminar

This year we need your support for a new venture that is being undertaken by the Commerce Club. A seminar has been arranged for November 28, 1969, around the intriguing topic, "Challenges for Business Administration Schools in the 1970's".

An official reception is being programmed to take place in the University Centre at 7 P.M., Thursday, November 27.

The Friday programme commences at 9 a.m. with the main address at 9:30 a.m. The remainder of the forenoon programme is made up of a panel question and answer period. The day's activities will be concluded with a workshop discussion ending around 4 p.m.

Further details will be made available as plans are finalized.

Memo:

TO MEMBERS OF THE
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

FROM: Rod J. Scott, Alumni Director

Dear Windsor Alumni:

Some time ago your Alumni Association had the opportunity to extend to the members a reduced price on Encyclopaedia Britannica.

We are pleased to announce that we have been able to make the same arrangements with Encyclopaedia Britannica and through this special offer, members of the Alumni Association can obtain the latest Imperial Edition of Encyclopaedia Britannica at a reduced price. The terms include considerable savings over the retail subscription price at which Britannica is sold.

In addition, the Group Offer also includes a choice of further publications and services at no extra cost.

The Alumni Office is being given the opportunity of participating in the distribution of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and, in doing so, to pass on to Alumni and their families the benefits which this plan offers.

If you are interested in receiving further details about the plan from the Encyclopaedia Britannica, kindly fill out and mail the enclosed postcard.

You will be contacted by us only if you indicate interest in Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ADDRESSES WANTED

If you know the addresses of any of these alumni, kindly notify the Alumni Office. We wish to inform them of the special events for Engineers at Homecoming '71.

J. Keiller Mackay

J. Keiller Mackay, the extraordinary chancellor of the University of Windsor and former lieutenant-governor of Ontario, died this summer past.

He was, as his many friends and associates at the university will testify, a remarkable and eloquent gentleman. His death leaves those who knew him much sadder.

The former Ontario Supreme Court Justice became the University's first chancellor in 1963 when it was formed out of Assumption University.

It was one of a great many important posts he held during his distinguished career, and like the others, he deemed it of utmost importance.

He fulfilled his duties at the University of Windsor not as something to be done, but something worth doing, doing well, and enjoying.

Until his death, J. Keiller Mackay followed the growth of the university with great interest.

He visited the campus many times, often going out of his way to meet and talk with students, discover their attitudes and discuss those attitudes with them.

One of his fondest duties was attending the convocations of the University of Windsor which he did with unfailing interest until ill health forced him to miss the last of these convocations in May.

He went out of his way, and often lengthened the proceedings, to insist on speaking to each and every member of the graduating class.

It is this interest, this caring, this humanity, that students, faculty and staff at the university will remember as part of J. Keiller Mackay's personality.

"He was one of the most interesting and informed gentlemen I ever knew," said John J. Stuart, former chairman of the board of governors at the University of Windsor.

His leadership was a great asset to the newly-formed university, Mr. Stuart said. His rapport with the students, the faculty and the board of directors "welded the new institution together."

Rev. Eugene Malley, president of Assumption University, said J. Keiller Mackay was "one of the finest, outstanding — not only Canadians — but human beings" he had ever met. Father Malley said Mr. Mackay "always added so much grace and humaneness" to the university's functions.

"He was a remarkable and extraordinary speaker."

"I don't think I ever heard anyone use the English language as well. It was a real experience to hear him use our language in such a beautiful way."

Keiller Mackay had an equally beautiful way with people. He was a vigorous champion of civil rights. As a

I would agree completely with the many glowing tributes paid to Keiller Mackay in the Windsor Press at the time of his death last June. He was a universal favourite, and each of us who had come to know him well has his own special stories and memories, but I would emphasize that, for all his popularity, he was in no sense a seeker after favour. He was actually, in his intellectual judgments, a tough minded man, and willing to affront popular prejudice or sentiment, if he felt that he should do so.

In his final years, he came to value his Chancellorship at the University of Windsor more than any of his other public offices, and even when confined in an intensive care unit in one of the Toronto hospitals, he was busy, when the attention of the nurses and doctors was elsewhere, in composing and dictating a message for our Convocation dinner only a few days before his death. At our Convocations I never ceased to admire both the skill and the courage with which he carried out his duties, so adroitly that very few people in the audience ever realized that he was almost completely blind!

He added colour and distinction to our Convocations and other formal gatherings, and he will be sadly missed in Windsor.

justice, his business was people. As a human being, his love was for people.

He will likely be remembered best in Canadian history for the decision he made in 1945 while sitting on the Supreme Court of Ontario bench.

He ruled that a racially restrictive covenant was not in the public interest and was invalid.

The covenant which drew Mackay's attention was a clause in a deed which prohibited the sale of property "to Jews or persons of objectionable nationality".

The Mackay decision has outlawed all such covenants since.

He fought as hard for the rights of the individuals as for the rights of minority groups.

The people, he said over and over again from one end of Canada to the other, must always be supreme over the state.

"Too much authority," he once stated, "is like alcohol in its effects on the brain. There is no excuse for infringing on the rights of the individual on the pretext that you are defending the freedom of the state."

It was this feeling and thoughtfulness for the individual that perhaps accounted for the great personal warmth and sincerity of the man.

"It was the nature of Chancellor Mackay," said W. R. Mitchell, vice-president administration of the University of Windsor, "that even a brief acquaintance with him produced respect and affection."

The graduates of the University of Windsor will remember J. Keiller Mackay as the human being who cared enough about them to introduce himself to them at their graduation, to talk to them, to wish them well—in all sincerity.

It was this man, one of the important figures of Canadian history in our time, who shook hands with so many of our graduating classes, and cared, who will live on in their memories.

Those who knew him well will miss him. Those who did not are poorer for their misfortune.

A message from the Alumni Association President, Charles F. Collini: "The University of Windsor Alumni Association wishes to express its condolences to the family of the late J. Keiller Mackay, the first chancellor of the University of Windsor. His contributions to Canada, the community of Windsor, and the University of Windsor were numerous. He contributed much throughout his long and distinguished career. His presence will be missed by the University."

Alumni Golf Tournament Hit By Rain

Kingsville Golf and Country Club was the scene of the Annual Alumni Golf Tournament on June 24. Close to 50 alumni enjoyed themselves at golf and the buffet supper that followed.

The tournament was marred by two brief downpours which sent some of the golfers to the refreshment counter earlier than anticipated. But most finished the 18 holes and only the last few foursomes were really hampered by the rain.

Dr. Frank DeMarco's score of 80 won the tournament and the Alumni trophy. Low net trophies went to Steve Kominar and Ralph Devereux. Over 60 prizes went to all of the participants and the day proved to be such a success that plans are being made for two tournaments for 1971.

Research Training In Clinical Chemistry

Three Windsor hospitals are to become actively involved in the research training of University of Windsor graduate students in Clinical Chemistry.

This was announced jointly by Dr. J. F. Leddy, President of the University of Windsor, Colin Griffiths, Administrator of Metropolitan Hospital, Roman E. Mann, Administrator of Hotel Dieu Hospital, and Brigadier Gladys McGregor, Administrator of Grace Hospital.

The first arrangement of this kind to be undertaken in a Chemistry Department in Canada, it will allow honours chemistry or honours biochemistry students making clinical chemistry their major area of study for the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees to obtain broad hospital experience.

The emphasis in the University of Windsor program will be on the application of basic chemistry to research problems in biochemistry of disease and the study of basic clinical methods; where the emphasis in other programs has been weighted more heavily towards pathology and less toward chemistry.

"We are most grateful that the Windsor hospitals have joined us in this endeavour," Dr. Leddy said. "The combination of our efforts should result in the training of scientists in a much needed area."

The structure of the program has brought about a number of reciprocal appointments.

From the University, Dr. Roger J. Thibert, Professor of Chemistry, has been named honorary consulting chemist to the three hospitals. He will co-ordinate the program on behalf of the Chemistry Department.

Three pathologists, with the co-ordinator, Dr. Thibert, will supervise work by graduate students in the laboratories of their respective hospitals.

The first students will enter the program this fall with three students working at the Master's level and three at the Doctoral. They will be required to complete the regular course work required for post graduate degrees in chemistry.

Where the program differs from the regular graduate one is in the area of research. The students will work in the hospital and university laboratories in the study of basic medical science for hospital and related work. Normally Chemistry graduates entering this field require retraining to fit into the hospital environment; with the Clinical Chemistry major this will not be necessary.

For the Master's student, some 600 hours—the equivalent of a summer—will be involved. Rather than a formal thesis, he will prepare a major paper based on his laboratory work.

The Doctoral student will be required to do 1,200 hours—the equivalent of eight months—apart from his dissertation and regular course work.

Enthusiasm for the program was expressed by the Head of the Chemistry Department Dr. E. J. Bounsell.

"It both logically extends the work the Department has been doing in Biochemistry and adds a dimension to the Department," he said. "The benefits of working jointly with the hospital scientists extend beyond those directly involved with the program to all of our teaching staff. We look forward to the association."

Dr. Roger Thibert Honoured

Dr. Roger J. Thibert, Professor of Chemistry, has been elected a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in recognition of his contribution to the advancement of science.

Dr. Thibert's most recent appointment at the University of Windsor occurred when he was named honorary consulting chemist to three Windsor hospitals. Dr. Thibert in this position coordinates the newly established program of clinical chemistry on behalf of the Chemistry Department.

Dr. Thibert's academic career, research activities and activities in scientific and technical and professional organizations attest to the background of his most recent award. A member of the teaching staff of the University of Windsor since 1953, he became a full professor of chemistry at the University in 1967. During the years 1964 to 1970 he served as Associate Dean of Arts and Science. He has initiated many courses and programs.

Apart from the recently initiated graduate program in clinical chemistry to the master's and doctor's level, Dr. Thibert has developed programs in general science with majors in chemistry, honors chemistry, honors chemistry in physics and honors chemistry in biology. He served on many departmental committees involved in the general development of the University.

Dr. Thibert maintains an active ongoing program of research with more than a score of papers published in refereed scientific journals.

His professional memberships include the Chemical Institute of Canada, the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Canadian Biochemical Society, the Association of the Chemical Profession of Ontario, the Canadian Association of University Teachers, the American Association of Clinical Chemists, the Canadian Society of Clinical Chemists, and the American Society of Biological Chemists. In addition, he is a Fellow of the Chemical Institute of Canada and is honorary president of the Royal Astronomical Society, Windsor Centre.

A native of Tecumseh, Dr. Thibert received his early education at St. Anthony's School and St. Anthony's and Assumption High Schools. A graduate of Assumption College with the Bachelor of Arts degree, he did postgraduate work at the University of Detroit, where he received the Master of Science and at Wayne State University for the Ph.D. degree. Dr. Thibert has further training at the Oakridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oakridge, Tenn., and at the University of Windsor in the Computer Science Course.

Physical Education Dean Appointed

Dr. P. J. Galasso was appointed Dean of the Faculty of Physical and Health Education of the University of Windsor April 22, 1970.

Earlier this year the School of Physical and Health Education was given Faculty status. Dr. Galasso has been Director of the School since it was established in 1966. He joined the staff of the University of Windsor the previous year as an Assistant Professor when the then new Department of Physical and Health Education was set up. Dr. Galasso was appointed a full Professor last year.

A native of Toronto, Dr. Galasso received his early education there. He attended Queen's University where he obtained the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Physical and Health Education degrees in 1955.

Postgraduate work at the University of Michigan has brought him the Master of Arts degree (1958) and the Doctor of Philosophy degree (1968).

Dr. Galasso has a broad teaching and administrative experience. He was an instructor at Perth Collegiate from 1955 to 1957.

He was Director of Athletics and lectured in the School of Physical and Health Education at Queen's University from 1959 to 1963 before accepting a post as Assistant Professor at the University of Waterloo, where he served until his Windsor appointment. He was elected President of the Kitchener-Waterloo Branch of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

He served as a member of the Research Review Committee for Fitness and Amateur Sport in the National Department of Health and Welfare in 1968-69.

In addition to his present duties, Dr. Galasso acts as Chairman of the University Men's Committee of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

His scholarship has won him a number of awards including a Horace H. Rackham Scholarship, membership in Phi Kappa Phi Honours Society and the Athletic Board of Control Plaque of Queen's University.

The Windsor Chapter Singles Club is to be commended for the great success of their Friday night Welcome Cabaret at Homecoming '70. The Centre for the Study of Man (formerly LaPointe House) on Riverside Drive was the scene of a Cabaret and dance for alumni and their friends.

Saturday morning the Homecoming Parade moved along Ouellette Avenue to University Avenue, past the reviewing stand at H.M.C.S. Hunter, to the music of the Windsor Police band. Many of the faculties were represented by floats and banners. Spectators had to rush to the University Centre for the Luncheon held in the Faculty-Alumni Lounge.

More than 100 persons attended the Annual Luncheon-Meeting. Election of officers to the Alumni Association Board of Directors was an important part of the meeting. Following are the elected officers for 1970-71:

President—

Charles Collini

1st Vice-president—

Ron Pfaff

2nd Vice-president—

Dr. Michael Zin

Directors (term ends in 1971)—

Dr. Walter Romano

We were particularly pleased this year to have the first Alumni Secretary back with us for Homecoming Weekend. Roger Schifferli was the recipient of an Alumni Award, as was Rev. N. J. Ruth, C.S.B., former Dean of Arts and Science. These two fine gentlemen did much to enhance the Homecoming Program. Roger and his wife Pat (formerly Adams) reside in Silver Springs, Maryland, with their six children. Roger is Director of Development at Trinity College, Catholic University of America, in Washington, D.C.

Father Ruth is spending much of his time travelling to various universities studying the "psychology of science". As you know, Father Ruth retired in August, after eighteen years as Dean of Arts and Science for Assumption and the University of Windsor.

Alumni Awards are special citations to alumni for their devotion to their Alma Mater.

Jim Castronovo introduced his University of Windsor Fight Song at the Luncheon — with the help of the University Band under the direction of James Tamburini. It was voted in as the "official" song for our University. You may see Jim's work on page six.

The University of Windsor Lancers defeated York University in the Homecoming football game. Then, Alumni and their friends celebrated at a Wine and Cheese reception, sponsored by the Basilian Fathers, at the Centre for Man. If empty cheese trays, empty wine bottles and overcrowding are any indication — the event was a rollicking success. For this, we thank the Basilian Fathers.

A vacation for two was the draw prize at the Homecoming Ball, Saturday night.

The Raymond Michael Group provided music for the entire Weekend.

Church services for each denomination followed by a Sunday Brunch, saw an end to Homecoming 1970.

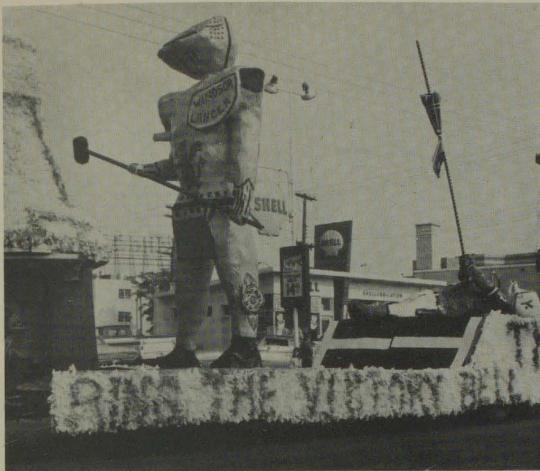

See you in '71!

FACULTY OF EDUCATION AT UNIVERSITY OF WINDSOR

The University of Windsor has taken over the Windsor Teachers' college and has established a faculty of education under which the college will be operated.

The college, for all intents and purposes, will carry on with its regular program of instructing students in the methods of teaching applicable for elementary schools.

This program, which up to the present was open to all students graduating from high school, will be restricted as of next year to students who have successfully completed at least one year of university education.

This change will be the only drastic one at the college for the time being, faculty officials said recently.

Other changes, including possible extension of services to offer courses on the graduate level, will be considered in future by a system of committees now being established.

The faculty of education is expected to attract about 450 students this year, a slight increase over last year's enrolment.

The feeling is that the college will gain a measure of prestige being now incorporated into the university structure, giving graduates an added advantage in an already competitive field.

One of the concrete advantages of the change is that faculty members from other university departments may be called upon in future to give guest lectures, thus broadening the scope of instruction students will receive.

The faculty of education, it is hoped, will attract not only students of undergraduate standing, but those recently graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

The educational system has been changed, to some extent, already so that teachers in the field are being required to take university courses if they have not already done so. This being the case, graduates who attend the faculty of education will be in advantageous position upon receiving their teaching certificate.

Officials of the college feel its presence means an estimated three-quarters of a million dollars to the community each year in terms of money spent on accommodation, entertainment and necessities.

With the inclusion of the college into the university structure, this of course means more than one advantage to the university.

The move to incorporate the college into the university was begun in 1966 when Dr. Clare MacLeod, director of education with the Windsor Board of Education, was appointed chairman of a committee to study the situation.

That committee brought in a series of recommendations which eventually led to the takeover, effective July 1 this year.

The changes to be instituted in the new faculty will take place as "we see more clearly what direction should be taken," one official said.

The present course offers both theoretical instruction and practical application of it in a one-year course (after completion of grade 13) and in a two-year course (following completion of grade 12).

This will be amended next year to a one-year program following at least one year of university education. Eventually, although not for the next several years, a degree will become an entrance requirement.

The teaching staff is composed of 18 lecturers at present. This may be expanded temporarily with guest lecturers from other departments within the university and others.

This expansion of university services is another way in which local residents, inclined toward a teaching career will be accommodated locally.

Until the present teachers' college facility was built in 1962, students interested in teaching had to leave the area to receive their training.

The inclusion of the college within the university structure is an added incentive for more students to get their education locally.

BOOK SHELF

EREBUS. Robert Hunter. 255 pp.
Grove Press, 1969. $5.95.

This first novel is by a young Canadian, Robert Hunter, who now is residing in Vancouver and reporting for the Vancouver Sun. A brilliant first novel, it is reminiscent of the sprawling, seamy world created by Lawrence Durrell, but the imagery bears the stamp of a definite Canadian consciousness. Although the cold, filthy city is identified as Winnipeg, it could be any inner city in Canada.

In Greek mythology Erebus is the personification of darkness. According to Hesiod, Erebus sprang from Chaos and was father of Day. The first paragraph of Erebus as well as each succeeding one shows that the father is a malignant tormentor rotting in the universe, suffocating the world and turning it slowly toward an agonizing collapse:

"The remains of the sun are shuddering. Fumes rise as it rots. It has green skin, punctured, with stains running from sores. It is nothing more than a decaying grape. Its light is putrefaction. At the moment, it is retreating into the anus of the night. In the morning, it will be dumped like a turd on the horizon."

The dialectic of the slaughterhouse world versus the peaceful island is the dominant theme of the novel. Grotesque, surrealistic imagery describes the landscape of the city-slaughterhouse. The young narrator moves through this world perpetually in a semi-conscious state, sharing the lives of deprived, diseased people who are doomed to the moribund city.

The book is by turns funny, depressing, moving, horrifying, shocking. Five years ago it would never have been published but today its prose is the most appropriate means of describing the despair that society feels in living in a violent, obscene world.

CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

WINDSOR - DETROIT

Considerable progress is being made by the Home Chapter in revitalizing Alumni activities in the Windsor-Detroit area. An interim Executive was set up last October and several programs have enjoyed a great deal of success.

The local Chapter sponsored the Annual Alumni Ball on May 22 and although attendance was below expectation the evening proved to be enjoyable for all. A large number of the 1970 Graduating Class, who attended as guests of the Chapter, had an opportunity to meet with other Alumni. The music of the Ray Michael Group, the interesting "Age of Aquarius" theme and the buffet supper at midnight all added up to a great affair for the 150-plus present.

This year's Alumni Golf Tournament on June 24, admirably organized by Jamie Henderson, Rich Woodall and Ron Pfaff, found 49 (?) golfers flailing around the Kingsville course in fine style (see story on page 5).

Perhaps the greatest success of the Chapter this year has been the organization of an Alumni Singles' Club. This group, headed up by Linda Menard and Wayne Sweet, has put on a number of interesting events including a boat cruise from Toledo and several evenings of get-togethers. Plans for the fall and winter include a canoe trip and several ski outings. The most difficult task the Singles' Club has faced was convincing Rod Scott that he is not eligible to belong.

A number of projects are still in the planning stages. We are very anxious to initiate a continuing education program for our local alumni, designed to bring them up to date on recent developments in their particular discipline. Hopefully this will be underway very shortly.

Much remains to be done in the next few months and after. We want to work toward placing members of the Windsor and Detroit Chapter on the International Executive of the Alumni Association. The Toronto Chapter placed two members on this board last year and it is our aim to equal or surpass this accomplishment.

We are very interested in getting in touch with all of the Alumni in the Windsor-Detroit area to let them know what we are doing — for them and for the University. If we have missed you, please let us know. If you want to become more actively involved in the activities of the Chapter, indicate this to us by means of a call to the Alumni Office at the University.

LONDON CHAPTER

The Lancer football team ran over Western Mustangs in exhibition football action this fall, and the enthusiasm of the crowds ended in a rejuvenation of the London alumni group.

Alumni director Rod Scott played host to about 50 alumni, wives and friends at the downtown Holiday Inn after the 13-1 victory.

Among those present were Mrs. Leddy, Father Mulvihill, basketball coach Paul Thomas and his family, Dean of the Physical Education faculty, Pat Galasso, and his family; Dick Moriarty, Athletic Director; London Free Press sports columnist and Assumption University alumnus Bob Gage, and a number of Windsor students.

David Service, a U. of W. alumnus who is presently teaching in London, is the newly elected president of the London Chapter. He acted as chairman of the informal get-together and was able to round up several interested alumni to participate in the activities of that Chapter.

Among those forming the nucleus of the chapter are: Rick Finley, Ed Lanktree, Tony Gilbert, Vic Mankiewicz and Bill Reid.

The alumni enjoyed the post-game wine and cheese party and it is hoped the rejuvenated chapter will become one of the more active groups in the province.

If you live in the London area, you are invited to contact David Service and lend a hand to a new chapter.

NEW LAW BUILDING OPENED

The new law building at the University of Windsor was officially opened in the last week of September.

The $3 million structure, housing the three-year-old faculty of law, is now in full operation. Students had been using the facility since school began in early September.

At the opening ceremonies, Chairman of the Board of Governors, Professor Malcolm Morton, presented the key to the law school to Dean of the Faculty of Law Walter W. Tarnopolsky.

The building, located at University Avenue, between Patricia Road and Sunset Avenue, houses a comprehensive law library which is named in honor of Paul Martin, Government leader in the Senate.

During opening ceremonies, honorary doctor of civil law degrees were conferred on three distinguished Canadian jurists.

These were:

Francis R. Scott, a member of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism and a former dean of McGill University's law school;

Mr. Justice Bora Laskin, of the Supreme Court of Canada;

James McRuer, who has served as chairman of the Ontario Law Reform Commission and is former Chief Justice of the High Court of Ontario.

Following the official opening of the facility, conducted tours of the building and an informal reception were held.

The school has been designed to accommodate the present trend in Ontario's law schools for smaller classes and wider choice of course materials.

The three-storey, air-conditioned building has a large number of seminar rooms and a mock courtroom.

Library facilities are contained in the central part of the building on all three floors. The main entrance is on the middle floor.

Study carrels surround the library areas on each floor and three of the six seminar rooms are adjacent to the library facilities and may be used for study purposes.

The courtroom seats 100, a bench for five judges, a jury box and counsel tables.

Two 75-seat lecture rooms are separated from the courtroom by sliding doors and partitions which may be opened to allow extra seating.

Closed circuit television and other audio-visual aids are built into the area.

A faculty lounge, 30 academic offices, administrative offices for the dean, associate dean, registrar, librarian and their staffs, a student lounge and adjacent 450-locker student room are also featured.

Dean Tarnopolsky said he hopes to keep the enrolment at the school to about 75 students each year until the building reaches full capacity in three or four years.

Present enrolment is 69 students.

Dr. Phillips Appointed Dean of Arts and Science

Dr. William G. Phillips has been appointed as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Windsor.

Commenting on the appointment of Dr. Phillips, at present the Head of the Department of Economics and Associate Dean of Arts and Science, Dr. Leddy declared:

"I am delighted to be able to announce an appointment so popular and widely expected within the University community. I am especially pleased we were able to secure for the appointment a distinguished scholar of high reputation who has also been a member of our own staff for 20 years, and a man who has taken part in the development of the University of Windsor from a time when its enrolment of students was several hundred to the more than 5,000 of today."

Dr. Phillips succeeds the Rev. Norbert J. Ruth, C.S.B., who resigned after 18 years' service to resume a teaching career.

Dr. Phillips is a graduate of the University of Toronto, where he received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1944 and his Master of Arts degree in 1947 and Ph.D. in 1953. He did post-doctoral research at the London School of Economics and the Institute of Economic Research, Queen's University.

He joined the staff of Assumption University in 1950 as an Assistant Professor, became an Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Economics two years later and, in 1956, achieved the rank of full Professor.

In the academic year 1962-63, Dr. Phillips was appointed a Visiting Professor at the University of Toronto.

From January, 1966 to July, 1967 Dr. Phillips served, full time, as Personal Economic Advisor to President Kenneth D. Kaunda of Zambia and has continued this assignment for the International Development Agency, Ottawa on a part-time basis to the present.

Dr. Phillips has been active in his profession, elected a member of the executive council of the Canadian Political Science Association in 1959, he held that position until 1961. Later he was named an alternate delegate for that Association to the National Commission for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), a post he held for five years.

He has published a considerable number of scholarly articles and is the author of the book "The Agricultural Implement Industry in Canada: A Study in Competition", a Japanese translation of which has been published in Tokyo.

Alumni Times: Autumn, 1970

Attention Commerce Graduates

The following letter is from the current president of the Commerce Club. If any of you wish to sign the petition then send your response to Tom Peddie, c/o the Faculty of Business. If you have any further questions, Tom will be happy to answer them.

Dear Rod:

Early in the fall of 1969 the Faculty of Business Administration Facilities Planning Committee (5 faculty, 1 student) submitted a detailed brief on the Faculty's building needs into the mid 1970's. The brief recommended the earliest possible construction of a Faculty of Business Administration building as being in the best interests of the University at large, as well as the Faculty itself.

In the early spring of 1970 the students of the Faculty, at their own initiative, raised a petition in support of the brief.

Late in the spring of 1970 the students sought Commerce Alumni support for their petition. Even though they contacted the alumni late in the school year, and were not able to give extensive description of the status of building priorities on campus, the alumni responded with enthusiasm and 73 signatures were quickly raised.

However, it was decided to withhold further pursuit of alumni signatures until the late fall of 1970 so that the petition could be presented in the Alumni Times to make it clear that it is indeed an official effort of the students of the Faculty in support of the Faculty's recommendations under the auspices of the Commerce Club.

We earnestly hope that you will see fit to enable us to contact our Commerce Alumni in this way, and we would appreciate permission to do so in the first Alumni Times of the fall of 1970.

*Sincerely yours,
Thomas C. Peddie,
President.*

Sports Round-Up

by Rod Scott

Women participating in organized athletics at the University of Windsor this year will face competition from teams in a newly-formed league.

The university teams are now participating in the Western Region of the Federation of Women's Inter-collegiate Athletics of Ontario and Quebec.

The league was formed last May as an offspring of the Women's Inter-collegiate Athletic Union and the Ontario-Quebec Women's Conference of Inter-collegiate Athletics.

The five Lancerette teams will compete against women from Western, Waterloo, Waterloo Lutheran and Guelph.

This year the Lancerette badminton team has been eliminated from the roster because of a lack of interest.

Lancerettes will still compete in basketball, under coach Miss Mary O'Brien; speed swimming and diving; and synchronized swimming, both coached by Miss Marge Holman; track and field, coached by Miss O'Brien; and volleyball, coached by Miss Marliese Kimmerle.

The new league is expected to provide increased competition for Lancerette teams and may also provide an opportunity for more University of Windsor women to participate in Lancerette team activities.

The Western Region of the league will send its two top teams into final competition against the top two teams of the Central and Eastern Regions.

Last year, the Lancerette basketball team won the Ontario-Quebec championship for the second time.

The swimming team took first place in last year's team routines competition and placed in several other events. The speed swimming and diving team took third place in overall competition.

The Lancerette track and field team placed fifth in the finals.

The volleyball team, which stood third in the league at the end of regular league play, won a consolation prize in the final competition.

The University of Windsor Athletic Awards Banquet, held last spring, was the highlight of the athletic year.

Cookie Leach won the university's highest award for a female—The Banner Shield. The shield was presented by Mrs. J. Francis Leddy.

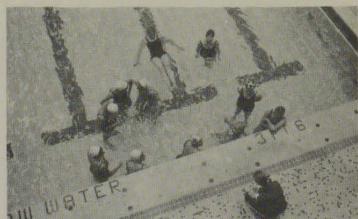

Sheila Murphy won the De Marco Trophy for academic and athletic excellence by a graduate.

Most valuable player awards were presented to:

Cookie Leach, basketball; Pip Purvis, synchronized swimming; Debbie White, speed swimming and diving; Donna Stewart, track and field; and Wendy Tinline, volleyball.

"A" awards, presented annually to persons who contributed most to the planning, organization, prestige and calibre of athletics at the university, went to: Barbara Carnochan, Sheila Murphy and Heather Sinclair.

This year there are an estimated 70 women taking part in organized team athletics out of a total estimated enrollment of 85 in the Faculty of Physical and Health Education.

1952

Roy Battagello has been appointed a vice-principal in the Windsor Secondary School System. He is presently head of the physical education department at Kennedy Collegiate.

J. H. (Jack) Bruce, of Windsor has been appointed vice-president, personnel and industrial relations for the B.C. Telephone Company.

Mr. Bruce has been director of personnel and industrial relations following his appointment to the company in September, 1969.

He was a 1952 graduate of the University of Windsor and began his business career with Ford of Canada as an executive trainee following which he moved into labor relations work with the company.

Mr. Bruce has been associated in various executive positions involving personnel, industrial relations and corporate development responsibilities with Canada Packers Ltd. and latterly with the Del Monte organization in both Canada and United States.

Dr. Conrad Swan, who resides permanently in England, was appointed in 1968 to the rank of York Herald of Arms. Dr. Swan was the first Canadian to be appointed to the College of Arms; a part of the Royal Household.

As Canadian member of the College of Arms; he supervised the grant of arms and the design of these arms for the University of Windsor in 1964. He, also, advised Prime Minister Pearson on the design of the Canadian Flag, and on the heraldic devices for the Order of Canada.

It is interesting to note that the art of heraldry is at the present time undergoing a considerable revival—as individual and corporate bodies revive old family and clan coats-of-arms or seek new ones.

On March 6, 1970, the Department of History at University of Windsor sponsored "An Illustrated Lecture on The Heraldry of Shakespeare" by Dr. Swan.

1940

Charles J. Clark, Q.C. has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Detroit International Bridge Company and its subsidiary, The Canadian Transit Company, owners of The Ambassador Bridge, at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders held March 28, 1969.

Mr. Clark is a senior partner in the law firm of McTague, Clark, Holland, White-side, Coughlin, Ouellette & Mailloux. He is a Director of the Green Giant Company and its Canadian subsidiaries, Morton Terminal Company, Essex Terminal Railway Company, and several other Windsor based companies.

Dr. John D. McColl, has been appointed vice-president, biological sciences, for the Mead Johnson Research Center.

Prior to his promotion, Dr. McColl was scientific director of Mead Johnson Canada Ltd. pharmacology, biochemistry, pathology and toxicology.

Dr. McColl, his wife and three children will reside in Evansville, Ontario.

1937

William "Moose" Rogin was appointed principal of Forster Collegiate. He received his education at the University of Windsor and taught for five and one half years at Sarnia Collegiate and Technical School before leaving in 1945 to take a position with YMHA in Toronto.

When he returned to Windsor, Mr. Rogin opened a sporting goods store. In 1957, he resumed teaching, joining the staff of Patterson Collegiate. For the past year, Mr. Rogin has been vice-principal of Riverside Secondary School.
